

Job title	Manager, Tire Recycling and Sustainability Programs
Reports to	Senior Director, End of Life Tire Programs

Job purpose

Develop and implement USTMA programs designed to create opportunities for economically and environmentally sustainable tire recycling and reuse markets, and manage risks and challenges associated with sustainable management of tires at the end of their lives in use.

Duties and responsibilities

- Work with the Senior Director, End of Life Tires and other USTMA colleagues to support and advance Association programs to promote environmentally and economically sound uses of scrap tires.
- Educate stakeholders, including government officials and industry representatives and the public about proper scrap tire management.
- Participate in industry coalitions. Collaborate with the Scrap Tire Work Group, an unincorporated association of state scrap tire regulators.
- Conduct research, collect data and publish reports on scrap tire management and end uses in the United States.
- Manage contractors and consultants to extend USTMA capabilities and resources.
- Effectively communicate with USTMA member companies about activities, based on priorities set by USTMA management and member companies.
- Liaise cooperatively with other USTMA staff managing related issues on behalf of the tire industry.

Qualifications

- Four-year college degree required. Advanced degree in law, business, environmental science, engineering and/or related field helpful.
- At least 5 years relevant professional experience. Trade association, scrap tire industry, recycling program management, tire industry, tire retail or related field helpful.
- Understanding of legislative and regulatory processes on the federal and state levels essential.
- Experience in managing and positively impacting outcomes in public policy issues, whether in legislative or regulatory venues.
- Understanding uses for scrap tires and other secondary materials in market applications.
- Facility with working independently and as part of a team in fast-paced multitasking environment; open, collaborative and positive personality.
- Ability to learn complex issues quickly and develop concise policy positions and advocacy.
- Strong analytical and interpersonal skills.
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills.
- Strong computer skills – facility with all software in Microsoft Office 365, particularly Excel, PowerPoint, Word, Outlook and Teams, and others such as Survey Monkey, Doodle, Whova et al.

Working conditions

The position requires moderate travel in the United States, although travel to Canada could be required as issues arise. Possible evening and weekend work.

All applicants must have the ability and appropriate technology set-up to work from home. This position is local. Local employees will work a hybrid schedule, with in-office days being Tuesday and Wednesday.
